| 5. Land of Egypt, land of woe,
Waiting for the Lord's return,
Soon the day will come at last,
When the Rose of Sharon blooms. | 7. Praise the Lord, O praise the Lord!
Praise the glorious Lord of all,
To the Lord of truth and love,
Sing to Him eternal praise. |
| 6. March along,—march along,
Have no fear, but march along;
For you go to victory,
Heaven's soldiers, march along. | 8. Sing Hosannas evermore!
Sing of glory evermore!
For the Lord has come again,
Sing Hosannas evermore! |

Song of Victory was received spiritually in February 1962 by a woman who had joined the first pioneering team in Japan in the city of Nagoya. Persecution was intense from the beginning, and the members went through many difficult experiences together, nevertheless becoming more dedicated and serious.

A woman who had initially welcomed the pioneers into her home became very negative, eventually taking all the members to court. During the proceedings however, she broke down and confessed to all her false accusations. It is significant that this song was received during the period prior to the trial.

Reverend Moon was imprisoned on July 4, 1955, and those who recall this time sing this song with tears. Even as Reverend Moon and the late President Eu were handcuffed together and pulled by a chain through the hostile crowd, still their deepest concern was for the members left behind. This song was composed during this very stormy period. Despite all this, NEW LIFE abruptly changes into a joyful song praising those who are able to turn even the worst possible situation into the Garden of Eden.

New Life

22. Suffering Jesus

1. See Lord Je - sus bent in pray'r, in the gar - den late at night,
 2. See Lord Je - sus bent in shame, see Him bear His heav - y cross,
 3. See Lord Je - sus on the cross, nails are ham - mersed thru His hands,

See Lord Je - sus bent in pray'r, in the gar - den late at night.
 See Lord Je - sus bent in shame, see Him bear His heav - y cross.
 See Lord Je - sus on the cross, nails are ham - mersed thru His hands.

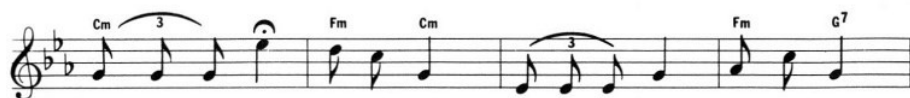

See Him cry - ing sweat - ing blood watch it min - gle with His tears;
 Spent, ex - haust - ed, bod - y and soul, now He stum - bles and He falls;
 What kind of sin did He com - mit, this, the on - ly Son of God?

Twelve di - sci - ples all — a - sleep, ev - en Pe - ter nods — and snores.
 Whipped from be - hind, dri - ven a - long, Je - sus treat - ed just like a cow.
 Like — a pure in - no - cent sheep, He is dy - ing, dy - ing for you.

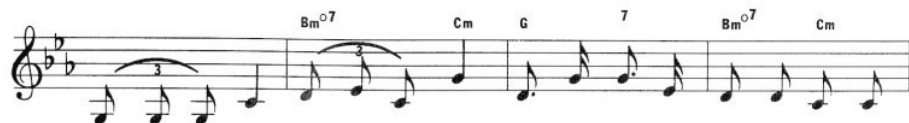

Is - car - i - ot — comes with a kiss, hands Him o - ver He is be - trayed.
 Where are His men? — Where are the twelve? Je - sus now is stand - ing a - lone.
 Fa - ther a - bove — He can - not watch; When He turns His face from His Son.

How could it be? Tra - gic sight in - no - cent Lord pre - cious Lord.
 Not ev - en one man is there bear - ing the cross for his Lord.
 "My God, my God!" Je - sus cries "Why do you now for - sake Me?"

Twelve di - sci - ples watch from a - far, ev - 'ry - one is run - ning a - way.
 Tho' the crowd may pi - ty a thief, free - ing sin - ful men of this world,
 Twelve di - sci - ples shared all His ways, still were deaf and blind to His heart.

Je - sus a - lone cap - tured and chained; sol - diers lead Him to the pri - son.
 Who'd vol - un - teer to take His place, take the cross for God's son Je - sus?
 All gone to waste, all gone to waste, Pro - vi - dence of God is bro - ken.

Fright - ened Pe - ter runs from the scene; with his tu - nic hides his face;
 How ve - ry sad, how ve - ry sad, might - y Fa - ther shed - ding tears;
 No use now to cry and re - pent, all re - pen - tance comes too late.

Look at Pe - ter treach - er - ous man, now pre - tends he does not know.
 Lost and be - trayed, lost and be - trayed, all the Fa - ther's hopes are gone.
 To pre - pare His com - ing a - gain, sac - ri - fi - ces must be found.

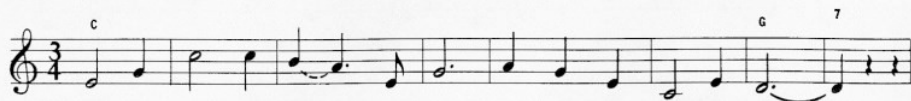

He who made the lame leap for joy, He who made the blind man see,
 Ev - en the most ig - no - rant men have a shred of com - mon sense;
 All the faith - ful shed - ding their blood, spill - ing for two thou - sand years,

He who free - ly walked on the waves, where are all those mi - ra - cles now?
 Who can see the Fa - ther's des - pair, who can share His suf - fer - ing pain?
 All this blood - shed, sal - va - tion's price, for three bil - lion men of to - day.

Before Lady Doctor Kim met the Unification Church she had a spiritual experience in which she followed the banks of a river to a beautiful palace. Here she found men and women dressed in white robes singing an incredibly moving melody. Soon after, she received the revelation to visit the church, and arrived at the center after great difficulty. She immediately recognized the brothers and sisters gathered there as the ones she had seen in her vision, and the song they were singing, the same SONG OF THE GARDEN. The origins of this song are unknown.

28. Shining Fatherland

Im hyung han il pyun tan - shim - Ka sil chul li - issu rya. ———

Although my body perishes
And yet one thousand times dies
My bones become ashes
Even my soul vanishes
Still all my love and all my heart
Unchanging remain with you
My everlasting loyalty
Unchanging remains with you.
